DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

The receipt of preliminary amendment of 3/31/05 is acknowledged. Claims 1-26 are present.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-13, 16, 18-20, drawn to polynucleotide encodes HPV. (Please note if this group is selected further select one sequence to be examined on the merits, and amend the claims accordingly, see below for explanation)

Group II, claim(s) 14, 15, 17, drawn to expression vector. (Please note if this group is selected further select one sequence that vector expresses, and amend the claims accordingly, see below for explanation)

Group III, claim(s) 21, drawn to the use of polynucleotide.

Group IV, claim(s) 22, drawn to use of vector.

Group V, claim(s) 23, drawn to use of composition.

Group VI, claim(s) 24, drawn to use of polynucleotide.

Group VII, claim(s) 25, drawn to method of treating.

Group VIII, claim(s) 26, drawn to method of treating.

The inventions listed as Groups I-VIII do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The invention of Group I is known in the prior art as evidenced by Ertl et al (US 2002/0137720) wherein the reference teaches an isolated and purified DNA molecule which encodes human papillomavirus early antigens (see the claims). The cited evidence proves that the technical feature of Group I does not make a contribution over the prior art. Thus, the claims are not so linked by a special technical feature within the meaning of PCT Rule 13.2.

Upon election of Group I or II, Applicants are additionally required to elect a single Sequence identified by a specific sequence identification number, as indicated above as they apply to group(s). The recited sequences have different structures one from other and the search for the sequences would be unduly burdensome. This requirement is not to be construed as a requirement for an election of species, since each of the sequence(s) recited constitutes an independent and patentably distinct invention.
